About: Tyler Daugherty

Daugherty served as the Red Wolves' men's and women's track and field head coach and as men's basketball assistant coach.

Daugherty previously served as an assistant coach for the University of Dubuque men's basketball team and as boys track and field coach at Bellevue (Iowa) High School during the 2009-10 school year.

His Bellevue boys track and field team won a conference championship. Daugherty was named the league's coach of the year.

"I'm a younger coach, so I can relate to the athletes. I've been on the floor, been on the field recently," Daugherty said. "I can offer another view of the game, how to get better and prepare."
